BUILDING PROGRESSES

Promise of Record Breaking Year Is Seen. $20,000 Worth Now Under Construction

That 1913 will be a record-breaking year in building operations in and about Tropic was the prophecy made by C. J. Jennings, building inspector for this city, today. He bases his conclusions on the present showing which is unusually large considering the time of year.

It is roughly estimated that in the district defined there is now going on in excess of $20,000 worth of business and residential construction and the greater part of this is of the latter class.

W. O. Hood has just begun the erection of a $1,000 one-story three-room modern bungalow at 210 Moore street, which he will occupy himself, and A. J. Prues will soon commence a six-room $2,000 home at 300 Cypress street west. The Prues home will be modern throughout with all built-in facilities and will be finished in Oregon fir.

In the immediate neighborhood and in Glendale there is also an amount of construction work now in progress. Some of the residences and structures are well under way, some have only been begun and others are to be completed in a month or so. Among these are the residence of D. H. Smith, which is being built at Second and Maryland in Glendale at a cost of $4,500. It is a two-story Swiss Chalet and will be finished in forty days. It will have a tiled bedroom built-in book cases and will have a shake exterior.

A business block is being built for Mary D. Grebel on Montrose and Honolulu streets at a cost of $7,240 by May Brothers, contractors. It is of brick, one-story high and has a ground floor measurement of 60x112 feet. The building contains three stores and an office room. The floors are of cement; there are plate glass windows in front, and the Grebel building will be finished on the exterior in a neat and artistic manner.

Work on this structure was begun June 29 and it is now 70 per cent complete.

Henry Heide is beginning the foundation for a $3,000 residence to be built at 450 East Cypress street for his own occupation. It is to be an eight-room house, 1 1/2 stories high and is an adaptation of the bungalow type.

R. R. Scantland, manager of the Montrose and Eagle Rock Railway, is erecting a six-room house at Ninth and Damasco streets at a cost of $1,900. It will be completed in ten days and Mr. Scantland and his family will move into it. They have been living on Chestnut street in a rented house awaiting the completion of the new residence. Mr. Scantland's family came to this section only recently.

May Brothers, who have the contract for this residence and a number of the other buildings just mentioned, have moved from 1108 West Broadway to Room 6, First National Bank building in Glendale and are now fixing up their quarters there.

Mr. May says of the present situation:

"The outlook just now is excellent. We do not expect to do very much at this time of year and nearly everyone is thinking of other things than strenuous business. A large number of people are at the beach, still others are hunting in the mountains and some are simply lying low in the shade on their lawns and waiting for cooler weather.

"Business at this time of year is generally not as good as later in the season and yet we have nothing to complain of. The residences which are going up are of the better type now, the greater number ranging from $2,000 to $4,500. It seems to be the impression among some people that homes cannot be built as cheaply in California as in other states and particularly in Oregon. I do not think this condition is as bad as it is made out. I should say that the cost of a home in Oregon would be only 10 or 15 per cent less than a similar residence in this part of the United States.

"While our lumber costs us nearly double what the Oregon builders must pay we do not have to use so much of it. Houses here do not have to be constructed so solidly as they do in the northern cities, where weather conditions make it necessary to erect much stronger and costlier residences. There are a number of other things also which tend to cut down what would otherwise be an excessive charge. Brick does not cost as much in this state, plumbing does not cost nearly what it does in Portland and the even climate makes it possible to erect a house once it is started without loss or delays. In less favored localities contractors are subjected to considerable loss caused by inclemency of the weather. A storm comes up and he must shut down. When a job is once under way it entails some loss to close it up for two or three weeks to wait for better weather.

GIRLS ENJOY CONTEST

Are Surprised At Courtesy and Attention Shown Them. Rivalry Is Good Natured. The Story

On motorcycles and on foot girls and women of Tropic and Glendale are turning out enthusiastically to compete in "The Sentinel's" popularity contest.

Five live contestants are now in the field and not only are working hard themselves but have enlisted friends and neighbors in pursuit of the piano and music scholarships. Everyone, whether working for herself or for some close friend, is optimistic and are well pleased with the reception they receive on every hand. In homes and business offices alike the pretty girls and ambitious women are being received with the utmost courtesy.

This is one of the Pianos. Its a Beauty. Go into Wiley B. Allen and see it.

Already great rivalry of a friendly character has sprung up between the five girls. Mrs. Spears heads the list according to returns but the rumor that some are holding back is keeping all on the "qui vive." Miss Cramer is but a few lengths behind, while the others who got bad starts are vigorously contesting for third place.

Much fun is being secured out of this wholesome, out-of-door contest in which some of the best women of the valley are taking part.

Of the many entrants none are striving harder for first prize than Mrs. Fred Spears, the bride of the catcher on the Tropic baseball team.

Mrs. Spears is a home product, having discovered America in that romantic old town, San Fernando, and has lived in Tropic the past thirteen years. As Miss Stella Miller she attended and graduated from the Tropic grammar school, subsequently entering the employ of the Tropic Basket Factory and remaining there during the last four years, latterly in company with her now fellow competitor, Miss Martha Cramer.

Mrs. Spears is descended from a line of patriotic men and women and is a grand-daughter of the late Albion Hapgood, who served during

VERDUGO WATER FREE

Los Angeles Cannot Take the Domestic Supply From Towns. Pueblo Grant Gives Partial Control

Los Angeles has no control over the water supply from Verdugo Canyon when this water is for domestic use, according to court decisions, in the opinion of Victor C. Watkins. Mr. Watkins as city attorney for Burbank has investigated the matter thoroughly.

When Los Angeles was owned by Mexico it bought the Verdugo Canyon water. Judges have since held on different occasions that in case of water stringency the city can enjoin land owners from using the supply for irrigation purposes, but they have further decreed that this does not apply to domestic users. The substance of the decisions, according to Attorney Watkins, is that Los Angeles cannot prevent cities such as Tropic, Glendale, Burbank and others from using the water for household purposes.

That the coming of the aqueduct water makes a stringency unlikely is the general opinion.

SALE OF WATER RIGHTS THE PEOPLE OWN NOT PROPOSED.

Mr. Cushing's Fears Quieted.

Mr. Editor:
Once we are able to disabuse our minds of the false idea that a private estate in water as it exists in its natural reservoirs and streams is lawful, the easier will be the solution of the question of compensation for its service.

Water is a life giving element and the capitalization of water and rights to water, surface or subterranean, for exploitation as private property is not permissible by the constitution and laws of California.

Indeed, a world-wide accepted proposition as old as the institutes of Justinian is that by natural law the circumambient air and running water are common to all.

In nearly all the western States, including California, the statutory expression now is that all water belongs to the State in trust for the people. That it is possible to come no nearer to private ownership of water than that of the equipment for its collection, distribution and use. That is to say: While the State is the owner in trust of one's drinking water, the tin cup furnished him to drink it with may be in the private ownership of another—at a reasonable rate of compensation for its use, called a service rate.

The person or corporation owning the equipment (the tin dipper) and performing the service of administering the delicious beverage to the public is called in law a public utility, and, if the service rate is unreasonable, or if the tin dipper is rusty, foul or leaky, may be called to account and made to square matters up by the State Railroad Commission.

If Brother Charles Cushing and others of his way of thinking can see that the parties proposing to sell to Tropic their city water service system are not trying to sell with it water and water rights they do not own, they will support the acquisition and ownership by Tropic of such service system.

Just right, Brother Cushing. You are with us and we are with you. For if you will examine the schedule of the property covered by the option to the city to buy the Tropic water service system, you will find that not a single drop of water nor a single right to water is therein offered for sale or attempted to be sold to the city. Just their service system and nothing more, including 1,007.75 shares of pipe service stock, not water stock nor stock representing water. The water and rights to water belong to the public in Tropic and Tropic should own and operate the equipment for its service. Let no one stand back, hinder or embarrass the adoption of the proposition for its purchase. It will prove an investment that will pay us well, even at $50,000.

It does not involve an increase of taxation to the extent of a single farthing. It will give us cheaper, purer and more abundant water. The electorate of Tropic should give it their enthusiastic and unanimous support.

One word more, in regard to the fear that some profess to have that the city of Los Angeles may invade the rights of the public in Tropic and Glendale to the water in Verdugo Canyon. That mighty city never has attempted and never will attempt to set aside the decree of the courts in partition apportioning the waters of that locality to the lands within which those prosperous and populous cities are situated, or to overthrow the decisions of the Supreme Court of the State, upholding the decree and sustaining the apportionment of the waters of the canyon as an appurtenance attached to and running with the said lands for the domestic use and irrigating purposes of the owners thereof forever. It is an insult to the intelligence of that great people to presuppose or anticipate their ever doing so.

TO BEAUTIFY TROPICO

Mrs. A. L. Bancroft Models Scheme After Foreign Cities

PLAN ARTISTIC STOP

Would Park Center of Street at Brand and Tropic on Electric Railway, Erect Fountain and Plant Trees

Tentative plans for beautifying the station of Tropic on the Electric railway according to the way these things are done in Italian and other European cities, are being made by Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, who owns two of the corner lots at the junction of Brand and Tropic avenue in this city.

If her plans are carried out fully, the Tropic stop will be made the most artistic on the road and will attract a large number of people who heretofore have passed by the unsightly shed which alone marks the location of one of the prettiest spots in Southern California.

By cutting 35 or 50 feet off the corner of each of the four lots at the junction of Brand and Tropic, Mrs. Bancroft hopes to be able to induce the electric railway company to make a curve in the track which will leave the center of what is the present track, vacant. On this spot a fountain or a big tree can be planted. This plan is adopted in many of the cities of Europe and other foreign countries and according to Mrs. Bancroft it adds greatly to the beauty of the boulevards. It has also been adopted by many American cities, but as yet none of the smaller towns in the San Fernando valley have taken it up.

Mrs. Bancroft owns the property upon which the small real estate office is located and is also in possession of the one opposite across the track. The other two lots, upon both of which houses are located, are the property of W. C. Seal and C. C. Chandler respectively. Whether these people will accede to the plan, Mrs.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

SUBSCRIPTION

One Year.....$1.50

Contributions from readers are always welcome and very much appreciated.

The Pacific Electric is to be commended for burning the weeds along its right of way through the city. Now if the owners of vacant lots would do likewise how thankful we all would be.

The Sentinel does not have to give away its papers free to secure a circulation. People subscribe for The Sentinel, and pay their money for it. They know they get full value in return. The Sentinel is not in the dodger class.

There are so many "opportunities" for the right man that the difficulty is to select the right one—one may be better than any of the others. The man who has character, stability, ability, and will work faithfully, has no need to hunt a job. Many jobs hunt him.

Did you ever stop to think that all you know you have learned from some one? To learn a given fact sometimes has cost you much effort. Then when you have learned something that will benefit your fellow man why not pass it on? Tell us; we will tell others, and others in turn will help you. Why not start this fashion? Wouldn't it benefit all?

The Sunset Telephone Company promised they would rush work so as to make long delayed connections for many of which they have forced the would-be patron to deposit $5 to these many months ago, but no one in this section has been able to see or learn of efforts made. Inadequate equipment, poor service, and an arrogant disposition on the part of petty officials is a splendid way to exhaust the patience of a long-suffering public. The American Telegraph and Telephone Company is a strong concern, but they will find the indignation of an abused, neglected and outraged public stronger. The first skirmish has already begun in the case brought by the United States Attorney-General against the company in the Northwest.

A SENSIBLE MAN TALKS

"Business conditions were never so good at this season of the year before," said J. Herbert Smith of the Tropico Mercantile Company the other day. "There is no reason for pessimism of any kind, and particularly this is true in the business world."

"It is too far ahead to prophesy securely what the conditions will be this fall, but from the present outlook they will be booming. When people begin to return from the beach resorts and other places and settle down to sober work again after a summer's frolic, there will be no end of prosperity in evidence."

"The absence of panic talk is one of the things for which everyone should be thankful. There seems to be a general air of optimism that immediately offsets any talk of panic and there is a feeling that no matter what happens politically, that everything will come out all right in the end."

WASH HIS FACE

It seems to be an unwritten law, which applies to nations as well as to individuals, that you can protect man except against himself. There is a law which prevents one from murdering his neighbor, but apparently there is no legislation which can deter this same neighbor from slowly poisoning himself with alcohol or some other drug.

It is on this line of reasoning that people base their notion that the state of Mexico should be allowed to stab herself to death, depopulate her villages, ravage her cities, massacre women and children and come out of it in the end, ruined beyond recovery.

If England, or Germany, or Japan, or France were to go into Mexico and treat her as she is treating herself, Uncle Sam would stretch forth a forbidding hand of steel and again full-blooded American citizens would have a chance to demonstrate that this is the only great nation on all the mighty earth which has never felt the chagrin of defeat. The Red, White and Blue emblem of freedom would be spread over the weltering wound in the side of our southern neighbor and the history of the protection of Cuba, the most Christian and unselfish action ever performed by one country for another, repeated.

But our dark-skinned neighbors next door are not being harassed by a foreign foe. Mexico can look the world in the face and say: "These are my own vitals I am cutting out. Mind your own business."

However, the time is gradually coming when the neighbor will step across the doorway and take the poisoned glass from the hands of his friend. In civil life it is now a crime for a man to attempt suicide, and surely the Twentieth Century is far enough advanced to apply this same law to nations.

Some Mexicans hate the Gringo Americans, but they hate only because they do not know. It was not in the heart of the Cuban and Philippine Island insurgents to love the country which took charge of their affairs and made them a civilized people until they were educated enough to understand, and it cannot be expected that the ignorant "Greaser" will be any better. Every boy hates to have his dirty face washed, but he feels a lot better afterward and is glad in the end that his mother performed the seemingly cruel task of rubbing stinging suds in his ears. When the Mexican is washed he will feel better and there is no one to perform the ablution except his Uncle Sammy, representing these United States of America.

SOW COURTESY AND REAP FRIENDSHIP

There is nothing that costs so little and which is worth so much as courtesy. A kind word, a smile, a carefully answered question and a friendly, yet not familiar, demeanor will work wonders on the visitor to any community and send him away with a favorable impression which all the rebuffs he receives in other towns and cities will only serve to strengthen.

An old man was walking along the streets of Tropico the other day and it was quite evident from the way he kept looking around him that he was a stranger. Finally being unable to locate what he was looking for he stopped a citizen in a halting and hesitating fashion and asked the direction to Glendale. With a jerk and a shrug of irritation the local man pointed his thumb back over his shoulder in a general direction and passed on, leaving the visitor standing in the middle of the sidewalk as bewildered as before.

At that moment a Japanese boy came speeding down the street on a bicycle, evidently with some mission to fulfill. As he was nearly opposite the old man the latter called to him asking: "Can you tell me the way to Glendale?" Although he had been going at a good rate and was past the visitor when the latter finished his query, the boy wheeled about and carefully gave the directions desired. Then with a smile climbed on his wheel again and made off.

That Japanese could teach some of us a good many things about politeness and courtesy. The old man went on his way with a warm feeling in his heart and perhaps a vow that he would try to emulate the deed of the little foreigner. And the Japanese peddler along as he had been going before, with the knowledge that he had been of help to a fellow creature.

American children today are being brought up with the idea that they must be rewarded for everything they do. The result is that they do as little as possible for others and as much as they can for themselves. There is no department in our public schools which teaches of the great part that kindness plays in the development of the village, the community, the state and the nation, yet it is for his kind deeds that Lincoln is held in reverence above all other Presidents. Washington was a great general and statesman and we revere him. Lincoln was the greatest of humanitarians and we love him.

If every one who visits this little city goes away saying: "Those Tropicans are the most courteous people I ever saw. I never met a cold stare or a rebuff during my stay there," what a wonderful advertising asset it would be to this community. Even if nothing else were considered, if the better side of the question be ignored altogether and the subject of the profit it would bring to the city alone discussed, it would be bound to pay.

No matter how great the irritation may be, no matter how you feel or how many times you have been asked a question, answer it courteously and for every kind word uttered you will receive many in return.

GUY MAXWELL WRITES.

Another letter has been received from Guy F. Maxwell, who some time ago went to Nome, Alaska, and is given below:

"Nome, Alaska, July 15.

"Dear Folks:

"Excuse this hurriedly written letter. Just received a letter from you and have only a few moments to write as the Senator returns right away. Of course I found the nuts and candied cherries and they tasted very good indeed. Passed them around among the fellows and they all thought them great."

"Nome is rather lively just at present. A party of tourists are here and the town is doing its best to show them a good time and make them welcome. Mirlando Steffandson is preparing to leave on a four years' exploration trip to the north pole. Had a chance to go as engineer on one of the launches but decided four years was too long for me."

"The native Esquimaux are having kayiak and conic races for the benefit of tourists this morning. The inside passage to Alaska is a beautiful trip and the steamship companies are cutting rates almost in half just now. There are a great many curious things which I will bring home with me. I then can explain things to you better. Nome is not very far from the Siberian coast. It is about 35 miles from the Alaskan to the Siberian coast. Will bring lots of postcards and views to you. Have some mighty nice fish here. The king salmon is a beauty and all O. K. for eating purposes. With best wishes for all."

"Guy F. Maxwell."

T. H. Addison has been awarded the contract for the construction of a two-story brick fire engine house to be erected in Glendale. His bid was $5,557 as against $6,392, submitted by his nearest competitor. Other bidders were Blair & Mackinac, $6,392; Anderson & Mordock, $6,614; Ralph Hamlin, $6,985; Mulder & Harnish, $7,000. Paul V. Tuttle prepared the plans.

Miss Fernie Regalsi is visiting friends on the Angelus Tract. Miss Fernie is rather an eccentric young lady and is inclined to call on her friends at unconventional hours, and because of this has caused quite a lot of gossip in this usually quite and sedate portion of the city.

Many friends of Major Weller will be delighted to know he is greatly improved in health, and he is anticipating a rare good time at Chattanooga during the national encampment of the G. A. R., which will be held in the southern city in September. The Major participated in the battles of Chickamauga, Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge, and belonged in the famous "Wilders Lightning Brigade." Gen. John T. Wilder, who was general of this brigade, has a handsome residence at Chattanooga, and he has invited the "boys" who served under him to be his guests while in that city.

Hunting and fishing parties galore are beginning to leave Tropico. There are scores of vague rumors floating about of great hunting fields discovered and of mysterious places where fishermen have to keep away from the banks to prevent the monstrous fish from coming to the surface and dragging them in. A large party is planning to go to Nina canyon for a short fishing and hunting trip and another party has signified its intention to go to Elizabeth Lake. Those going to Nina canyon are Charles Haggood, C. L. Jennings, C. S. Hunter, Dave Sovell, Wayne V. Frank, S. Ross, William Wibnitz and Don Erskin. The Elizabeth Lake party comprises Billy Gould, Ed Fairfield, Manuel Carpi, Elbert Betten and Mrs. Gould and daughter.

Much editorial comment has been made by papers in the valley and in Los Angeles on Tropico's plan for purchasing the water system and making it a municipal plant. This comment is all of a favorable character, commending those who started the project and wishing Tropico the best of success with the plan. Following is an excerpt from the Burbank Review: "The cities of San Fernando and Tropico, after thoroughly investigating the matter of securing aqueduct water, time required, permanent rights, cost of distributing system, quality of water, etc., have decided there is too much uncertainty about it, and are moving for municipal water, by a course similar to that taken by Burbank, the purchase of the present local water systems at Tropico and San Fernando. Both towns are going about it in a businesslike manner, showing the people the advantages of municipal water. It is well."

NOTED MUSICIAN PASSES AWAY.

White magnolia blossoms, knotted with purple tulle, arranged at the entrance to Palm Villa, the home of Mrs. David H. Imier, Saturday afternoon, was the mute, though beautiful symbol that announced to all that the grim reaper had entered the home of Mrs. Imier and gathered unto himself Miss Anna Augspurger, a dear and loving friend of the household. The passing of Miss Augspurger in Los Angeles, Thursday evening, shortly after ten o'clock, was not unexpected, as she has been ill for several weeks, her illness causing much solicitude among her friends and especially to her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Snyder of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Imier and her family.

The remains were conveyed to Palm Villa, where the services were held Saturday afternoon under the direction of Dr. Mills, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church of Glendale, in a beautiful and impressive manner. Francis Bothe, a noted English tenor, who has sung before Queen Victoria of England, sang "Abide With Me" and "Lead Kindly Light." Miss Elsie Vance, a former music pupil of Miss Augspurger, presided at the piano, rendering "Flee as a Bird," as the mourners viewed the remains.

The bearers were John Hobbs, A. B. Scofield, Hal H. Davenport and Dee Flanders. Following the services at Palm Villa the funeral cortege wended slowly to beautiful Forest Lawn cemetery, where Dr. Mills conducted the ceremonies and Francis Bothe sang "Face to Face" as the mocking birds in the branches overhead caught up the sweet refrain and warbled so effectively. And there amid her many friends, surrounded by the many natural beauties of Forest Lawn, many beautiful floral tributes, singing birds and the glories of a California sunset, all that was mortal of Anna Augspurger was laid tenderly and lovingly to rest. Miss Augspurger came to Tropico twelve years ago from Tiffin, Ohio, where she had spent the greater portion of her life, having come to America when a mere child, from Alzel, Germany, her birthplace. During her residence in Tropico and Glendale, she endeared herself to a large circle of cultured and admiring friends who appreciated her true worth. Miss Augspurger was an accomplished linguist, speaking most fluently German, her native tongue, French, Spanish and Latin as well as English. She was also a fine musician, being one of ten musicians of the United States who has been presented a handsome gold medal by the National Musical Association for her proficiency in music. Of a fine literary temperament, Miss Augspurger contributed many articles of fine merit to the literary world.

Dr. R. E. Chase, 443 W. Sixth street, will have plans at once for a residence to be erected on Orange street.

Plans are being prepared and bids will be asked for soon by the board of trustees of Glendale for bids for grading, oiling and macadamizing Ninth street from Glendale avenue to Brand boulevard.

Peter L. Ferry returned Sunday from an extended eastern trip on which he "took in" the big Elk convention at Rochester, then to New York, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Louisville and Cincinnati. Shortly after his return he came down and told Jim Fishback about all the good things he had "across the Rhine" in Cincinnati, and our usually genial street superintendent has been as cranky as a polar bear ever since.

W. Lindsey is having plans prepared for a two-story and basement frame residence to be erected in Glendale Heights tract, Verdugo Park. It will contain ten rooms, two bathrooms and will have cream pressed brick porch and porte cochere, concrete foundation and basement, redwood siding exterior, hardwood floors and will be heated by furnace.

Sunday evening nine Christian Endeavor societies from Glendale, Tropico, Eagle Rock and Burbank met in Glendale and organized a union Christian Endeavor for the San Fernando valley, and elected Geo. Hoist, of Burbank, president. Lunch was served by the local Christian Endeavor society, and Howard Brown presided for the evening. A special feature of the evening was the large choir in which were a number of the convention Christian Endeavor singers of Los Angeles, led by Mr. Peckham. A number of interesting talks were given during the evening, the principle address being made by Mr. Henry Erdman, entitled "Secrets of the Lord," and this address was unique in pungency and power. A prize was offered to the society having the largest percentage in attendance at this meeting, and this prize was awarded to the Tropico Christian Endeavor. Other meetings of similar nature and character will be planned for, and Tropico will not be overlooked.

THE BIG STREET FAIR.

Nothing of an exciting nature has taken place in Tropico since the big automobile race of July 3rd, so that everyone is looking forward to the big street fair to be held Saturday. Babies are being entered for the baby show, some entries coming from Glendale, showing that Glendale also is interested in this most interesting event.

The cat show is creating much merriment and all the handsome cats in Tropico are being groomed for this occasion.

The midway will be ablaze with light, tin horns and confetti. Balloon ascensions and the midway shows will afford plenty of amusement and then the supper served in cafeteria style will be, oh! so good.

Bring all the kiddies Saturday and help everyone have a good time.

AN ACTIVE LODGE.

At the meeting of the Visor Lodge No. 293, Monday evening, the report of the building committee was adopted. This report provides for the organization of a building association with a capitalization of $10,000 divided into one thousand shares. These shares are to be sold in quantities of one to fifty, and to be offered to the members of Knights of Pythias lodges. The site selected and recommended by the building committee is the southeast corner of Brand and Tropico, and it is proposed that a building be erected thereon 50x100 feet, two stories and a basement. The stores and basement to be used for commercial purposes, and the second floor to be used for lodge purposes.

The picnic committee reported that everything was working out well, and that the promise was good for an exceptionally good time for the Labor Day picnic in Griffith Park. Invitations had been extended to all the Pythians in the San Fernando Valley to come and bring their families and friends. Every effort will be exerted to make this a memorable affair in the history of Pythianism. A full account of the different events will be announced in next week's Sentinel.

HEALTH OFFICER'S TALKS.

Number 5.

Section No. 5 of the Tropico City Ordinance No. 40 says: "Every keeper of a hotel, boarding or lodging house and every household or other person shall immediately report in writing to the health officer the name and location of any inmate of his or her house when he or she may have reason to believe sick of any contagious or infectious disease such as mentioned in the foregoing section of this ordinance; that is, bubonic plague, Asiatic cholera, smallpox, chicken pox, measles, typhus fever, yellow fever, tuberculosis, diphtheria, scarlet fever, typhoid fever, glanders, leprosy or any other infectious or contagious disease.

Physicians must also report such cases.

Why does the law require such action?

It is impossible for the health officer to know all that goes on in the city and by this provision the law demands that all people assist him in the prevention of infectious and contagious diseases, that is, to do their part in safeguarding the general public health.

Such a demand is not only legal, but logical and reasonable and compliance with its requirements, regardless of the fact that a proven violation of the act is a misdemeanor punishable by fine or imprisonment or both, must be to each one's interest as well as that of the city and public at large.

The health officer has no desire to inconvenience any one, but does wish to properly perform his duties and in each case which comes to his attention will protect the individual as well as the public to the best of his ability. Help him when occasion offers. He will thank you.

When any sickness possibly infectious or contagious occurs in your home do these things:

Place the patient in the most isolated room in the house, if possible, in a room having an outside door.

Assign one person to take care of the invalid.

Keep everybody else away from the sick room.

Do not permit members of the family to visit other homes or other people to visit your own.

Call a doctor and take orders and suggestions from him only. Suggestions offered by Tom, Dick and Sally may be good; often they are not. You can rely on the doctor and he will inform you whether it is necessary to notify the health officer and will see that things are done according to Hoyle. WM. C. MABRY, Health Officer.

Sundays Base Ball Game

The winning hope of the Tropico boys was crowned Sunday by a victory over the Salt Lake boys. Tropico had been beaten in three previous games, and when they started the ball rolling Sunday they had blood in their eyes. They were out for revenge and they came near getting all they wanted—a shut-out. The Salt Lake boys were held down to zero to the seventh, when Radnich and Levy walked to first base on balls. Faut let drive one to center and Figueroa one to right, which brought in the two boys on bases. These were the only scores made by the Salt Lake.

The feature of the afternoon was the pitching of Bidwell, Tropico's new pitcher. He's some bird! Hasn't any fancy wind-up, etc., but when it comes to putting them over—he's there with both feet. Bidwell had fourteen strikeouts to his credit Sunday, and the Salt Lake boys only got four hits off of him.

The score:

Gabaig, ss	5	1	3	0
Davis, lf	4	1	1	0
Bradford, cf	4	0	1	1
Bidwell, p	4	1	3	0

Summary.—Two-base hits—Sisney. Stolen bases—Gabaig, Davis, Bradford, Spear, Vaulet, Sisney, Radnich and Levy. First base on called balls—Off Faut 2, off Bidwell 2. Hit by pitched ball—Carpenter and Spear, by Faut. Struck out—by Faut 9, by Bidwell 14. Time of game, 1 hour 50 minutes. Umpires—Van Meter and Suce.

CANNOT TAKE A BATH; TO BUY WATER SYSTEM

Because they can't take a decent bath as a result of the water shortage, residents of West Glendale and others in that city Friday evening took the matter of purchasing the Glendale gravity water system before the Chamber of Commerce. The water committee was instructed to name five other men to co-operate with it in learning what the sentiment now is and if the people of Glendale want to buy the system the subject will be taken up at once with the Board of Trustees.

Although there is plenty of water in Verdugo canon the inhabitants of portions of Glendale can get scarcely enough water, they say, to wash their faces. As far as taking a bath is concerned, this is out of the question in West Glendale. The reason for this is that the mains are not big enough and hence do not feed a large enough volume of the service pipes.

The companies which would be involved in this purchase are the Glendale Consolidated, the Miradero Water Company, the Verdugo Canon, and the Verdugo Pipe and Reservoir Company. It is not known what will be required now to purchase their property, but it is thought that not less than $300,000 will handle it.

E. U. Emery, chairman of the water committee, and the other members, G. B. Woodberry, J. W. Lawson, J. C. Sherer and C. O. Pulliam, will select five other persons, upon the decision of whom will rest the question as to whether the project be submitted to the trustees. The committee of ten will learn the sentiment of the people as nearly as possible so that money will not again be wasted in an unnecessary election.

This is not the first attempt that has been made to solve the water problem in Glendale by substituting municipal for private ownership. About 1½ years ago experts were employed at a considerable cost to estimate the value of the plants and an election was called to vote bonds of $225,000. A portion of this sum was to pay for the plants and about $50,000 was to go for new mains. It was stated at the time that the city would have an income of $30,000 a year from the project which would not only pay the interest but eventually take up all the bonds.

There was a desire among many then to wait for the aqueduct and there was also a belief that the plan was not being conducted properly, so the voters defeated it. The executive committee of seven members of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce met the first of next week and it is expected that the problem of furnishing water will be the main issue. Almost the entire meeting of the Chamber Friday night was given over to consideration of a condition which is making it impossible for so many people to take a bath.
